JOHNSON CANYON
DRIVING TOUR

Johns Canyon is a delightful scenic drive that will refresh the soul. You will quickly see why Hollywood used this beautiful canyon as a backdrop for several movies. After turning onto Johnson Canyon Road, stop and reset your car's trip meter to 0.0 miles and enjoy your drive to the following sites. Most points of interest are on private property, but can be easily enjoyed from the road. Bring binoculars to view the Indian and cowboy glyphs. The turnouts where the pavement turns to dirt, turn around and enjoy again the sites of Johnson Canyon.

HIGHLIGHTS:
#4: Dairy Canyon. Several important Indian artifacts have been found in this area and can be seen at the Kanab Heritage Museum in Kanab (260 North 200 W). Check with Visitor Center for times.
#5. In 1914, Francis Crystal rode into Kanab with a map that indicated that Montezuma had sequestered his treasures to a cave in this canyon. Locals pitched tents and began digging. They discovered multiple chambers, side passages, artifacts and petroglyphs but alas, no gold in those White Cliffs. Yet, the legend continues.
#14: In 1974, Francis Crystal rode into Kanab with a map that indicated that Montezuma had sequestered his treasures to a cave in this canyon. Locals pitched tents and began digging. They discovered multiple chambers, side passages, artifacts and petroglyphs but alas, no gold in those White Cliffs. Yet, the legend continues.
#15: End of pavement before the beginning of backcountry wilderness.
